John M. Marlan Whipt, but says he won't stay Whipped. Well, our election for the 8th Congre district is over, and Simms has beat Harlan 67 votes, but Gen. Harlan and his friends say they are not fairly beat, and will have a law-suit over Gen. Harlan had two out of three of adges of election on his side, in six out of eight of the counties of the District, he had two out of three of the judges on his side in Fayette, Bourbon, Woodf rl, Jessamine, Franklin, and Nicholas, and Simms had two out of three of the judges in Scott and Harrison, and yet he won't stand the election, and must have a law-suit. The General and his friends don't complain of foul voting in Scott, one of the counties where Simms had a majority of judges, and can't complain of Nicholas or other counties where he had the good will of the adges, and therefore Harrison county is the foul county in which all the foul voting was cast. Gen. Harlan had on his side his father, the Attorncy General, Gov. Morehead, Senator Crittenden, Judge Buckner, Mat Johnson, Garret Davis, Judge Robertson, and last, but not least, Judge Goodloe, and all the other big guns of the central District; he had on his side all the bank officials of the Northern Bank at Lexington, and its branch at Paris, the branch of the Bank of Kentucky at Frankfort and Lexington; his friends say he had on his side all the wealth, talents, and decency, and the owners of three-fourths of all the niggers; and his friends say the aforesaid Ger. Harlan is and was the greatest statesman and orator since the days of Demosthenes, Cicero, and Henry Clay; notwithstanding all those aids and helps, of men and means, the foul Democrats have swindled him out of his election, and he must have a law-suit over it. Gen. Harlan's friends say that their law-suit has to be tried before honest Judges, who will show him f ir play, and that a majority of the lower House of Congress will be Black Republicans and Know-Nothings, and he will have a fair chance and will get his rights. Gen. Harlan's friends say that John C. Breckinridge and James B. Clay have heretofore held their seats by fraud, and that it is time to put a stop to such doings, that they can't and won't stand it any longer, and that Simms now must be ousted, and that they have the right sort of judges Well, "come on McDuff," vou know the

The wonderful advantage which these stoves possess over all others, consists in the capacity of the flues, excellent draft, even distribution of the heat around the oven, superiority of the cooking, which, united with the multiplicity of work they are capable of performing, renders them the most complete Stoves, in their various combinations, that have ever been presented to the community.

In addition to the convenience and increased capacity of cooking surface, they are so constructed as to be capable of boiling, at the same time, with the same fire, a large body of water for washing, sapplying Bath and other Rooms, steaming tood for animals, and all other purposes. When hot water is required, in any quantity, it can be conducted into any adjoining apartment without interfering with the operations of the Kitchen or Cooking, and without my additional fuel.

A specific for Ho ping-Cough. A * pecific for Ho: ping-Cough.

It is known by a few individuals in the counties of Jefferson. Shelby, and Oldham, that I have a remedy that effectually cures Hooping-Cough. If there are remedies in America or Europe that cures, it is not within my knowledge, (except the one I use.) Physicians tell the families they attend it can't be cured. I have no doubt they are candid in what they state. To get the medicine in use, and lull to sleep a deep-rooted prejudice, the facults are invited to get the medicine, and save the little innocents whom they attend, and tell them no more it cannot be cured. One dollar will pay for two bottles, which is a sufficiency for one child. This medicine can be conveyed to amp part of the United States by express for a mere trifle. The New American Cyclopædia is popular without being superficial, learned but not pedantic, comprehensive but sufficiently detailed, free from personal pique and party prejudice, fresh and yet accurate. It is a complete statement of all that is known upon every important topic within the scope of human intelligence. Every important article in it has been specially written for its pages by men who are authorities upon the topics on which they speak. They are required to bring the subject up to the present moment; to state just how it stands now. All the statistic l information is from the latest reports; the geographical accounts keep pace with the latest explorations; instorical matters include the freshest just views; the biographical notices not only speak of the dead, but also of the Iving. It is a library of itself.
